Darryll, Sorry it's taken me so long to write something. It's not because I didn't love you or don't love you, it's because we really don't know each other that well. I regret that we never really got to know each other. We look enough like to be twins, but you were the second oldest of my brothers. I wish I could turn back time and get to hang out and d things brothers and sisters do. I know you're n Heaven and now mother is with you and father. Guess I'll see you when I get to Heaven
