Dear Sweet Meg. Just know you are in my prayers. I love you and Floyd so much. He was so much like my Dad. I loved talking to him because he always made me feel like I was talking to Dad. He was such a precious man and I am going to miss him. I find peace in knowing he's with Dad now and they are having the best time in Heaven. Just know I Love you so much and will continue to pray in these next few days.

–Terri Lane Bray

To Magdalene and your family members - I send you my condolences for the loss of Floyd. I worked with Floyd at Broughton Hospital. We worked in an area called Division P. During baseball season Floyd played an outfield position on one of the teams. To prepare himself for the position I would see him lift a heavy lounge chair over his head and move it up and down 2 or 3 times. When playing in a game he would catch fly balls with one hand. He was probably in his late forties or early fifties. He had a very good sense of humor which would help you and others when working with patients who had difficult behaviors. I was fortunate to have worked with Floyd Lane. May his wife and family find peace as they deal with his loss.
