My condolences to all of Sara Alice's extended family. Sara was a true diamond in the rough. Sara and I spent some time together growing up, she was a strong willed lady. She was always focused on her dreams and ideals, and never one to give up. I'm sure she left an impression on all those who passed thru her life. Rest in peace Sara, you will be missed by those who knew you.

I am shocked. I live across the road. Sara and I are maybe second cousins. She and I are have been Facebook friends for a couple of years. We were brought together by our love of the outdoors and our grandchildren. I know she will be missed. Our legacy in life is those children, including grands that we leave behind. And the memories people have of us. May you find peace and solace in those you love.
